1.2 Energy map (RMS loudness from the audio file)

0:00		intro, soft
0:20		verse 1 enters full
1:00		chorus steady groove
1:40		verse 2
2:37		bridge ("Chains are broken"), a lift
3:10		final vamp peak
3:40		ride-out climbs to the loudest point (4:00–4:15)
4:22		fade

Director's read: the song never drops into a sad section. It is joy from the first bar. So the pain lives only in the pictures, and the music is the future already speaking to the past. The warehouse performance is the man today, singing over the memories of who he was. That tension between happy music and hard images is what drives the video.

1.3 Themes → visual motifs

Lyric	Motif
"Overflow"	Water: a leaking roof in Act 1 becomes a champagne tower and a Lagos lagoon in Act 3. Light spilling over the edges of frame
"Like a bridge You carried me"	Third Mainland Bridge. He sleeps under it in Act 1, and a drone flies over it to his jet in Act 3
"Every mountain bowed"	Lagos skyscrapers shot low-angle (mountains), later shot top-down (bowed)
"Chains are broken"	A rusted padlock on a studio gate. Later he holds the keys to his own studio
"I go dance, I go shout"	Street kids, market women and the whole warehouse crew start dancing
"Lift my head"	Act 1 head always down. Act 3 head always up. Every shot keeps this rule

2. CHARACTER BIBLE: IDENTITY LOCK (must be followed in every frame)

THE ARTIST ("OVERCOMER"), taken from reference images REF-1 to REF-5.

Feature	Locked description, never alter
Ethnicity / skin	Nigerian (West African) man, deep brown skin with warm undertone and natural skin texture
Age	Late 30s to early 40s. Do not age him up or down
Face shape	Broad, rounded face with full cheeks and a strong, wide jaw
Eyes	Dark brown, slightly hooded, calm and direct gaze
Nose	Broad, rounded nasal tip
Lips	Full lips, relaxed and neutral at rest
Facial hair	Chin goatee connected to a thin beard line along the jaw , with a light moustache shadow. Same length and shape in every scene
Hair	Short black natural curly/coily top, tapered low on the sides, rounded natural hairline. Same style in every scene. In the "grass" scenes it is only dusty and uncombed, never a different cut
Build	Tall, broad-shouldered, heavyset/stocky, thick neck
Hero costume (warehouse + Act 3 finale)	Navy blue round-neck, long-sleeve senator/kaftan top with a hidden centre placket and 8 navy flower-shaped frog fasteners (two columns of four) , buttoned cuffs, side slits. Matching slim navy trousers. Black leather penny loafers

Rule on set and in AI generation: the only things that change between scenes are wardrobe, grooming level (dust, sweat, dirt), lighting and environment. The face, hair shape, beard shape, age and body build stay fixed.

Wardrobe progression (situation-matched)

Code	Stage	Outfit
W1: ROCK BOTTOM	Homeless under the bridge	Torn, sweat-stained faded brown/grey round-neck T-shirt with a ripped shoulder seam. Dusty, frayed dark trousers rolled at the ankle. Worn blue rubber slippers ("rubber slippers/palm slippers"). Nylon bag of belongings. Dust on skin, ashy elbows
W2: THE HUSTLE	Job hunting / walking into offices	Oversized, yellowed white long-sleeve shirt with a frayed collar and one button missing. Borrowed brown tie knotted too short. Shiny-worn black trousers. Cracked black shoes with a split sole. Brown A4 envelope with his CV. Sweat patches from the Lagos heat
W3: THE STRUGGLING ARTIST	Rejected by musicians/producers	Faded black T-shirt with a cracked print. Old jeans. Worn canvas sneakers. Cheap headphones round his neck. Taped-up exercise book of lyrics. Old Nokia-style phone
W4: THE TURN	Singing at a church / bus stop, the viral moment	Clean but simple plain navy ankara-trim top (a hint of the future navy), khaki trousers, clean sandals. First sign of dignity
W5: GRACE (business)	Signing contracts, boardroom	Tailored charcoal agbada-inspired suit or navy senator top with a gold cufflink detail, luxury watch, black loafers
W6: GRACE (hero)	Private jet, company HQ, warehouse	The navy frog-button senator set from the references , black penny loafers. Optional: navy/black Aso-Oke fila (cap) held in hand, never worn on the head, so the hairline stays visible

3. THE THREE WORLDS

A-ROLL: "THE WAREHOUSE" (performance)

- Location: a large disused warehouse, e.g. in the Apapa/Ikeja industrial area. Concrete floor, steel trusses, high windows blacked out, heavy haze.
- Key image: the artist in the W6 hero costume, alone in a single hard top spotlight (4 ft circle), a vintage chrome microphone stand with a classic dynamic mic in front of him. He grips the stand with both hands, sways, lifts it, and tilts it back at the climaxes.
- The crew is part of the picture: camera operators in all-white crew uniforms (white overalls/caps) running white-bodied cinema rigs such as RED V-Raptor and ARRI Alexa 35 in white cages, a Technocrane, a dolly on tracks, a Steadicam op, and an FPV drone pilot. They are lit as silhouettes and rim-lit shapes around the spotlight. The audience should feel a major production is happening around this man.

If you meant something different by "white camera men", tell me and I'll adjust. The idea as written is to show the scale of the production.

- Light build across the song: Intro has one spotlight only. Chorus 1 adds backlight haze beams. Verse 2 brings in practical tungsten bulbs across the trusses. Bridge flashes strobe white on "Chains are broken". Final chorus lights the whole warehouse in gold, and the crew start to dance. Outro ends with gold confetti falling through the spotlight.

B-ROLL 1: "GRASS" (micro-drama, Lagos lows)

Ojuelegba / Oshodi under-bridge, Balogun Market, Marina/Broad Street office towers, a Surulere music studio, and Third Mainland Bridge at night in the rain.

B-ROLL 2: "GRACE" (micro-drama, Lagos highs)

Private jet terminal at Murtala Muhammed Airport, Eko Atlantic glass towers, Lekki-Ikoyi Link Bridge, an Ikoyi boardroom, a company HQ with his name on the building, and a return to the same bridge where he slept.

IMG-01: Asleep under the bridge (Shots 2-3) · W1

Dawn under the Third Mainland Bridge in Lagos, Nigeria. He lies curled on flattened cardboard on a concrete ledge, wearing a torn, sweat-stained faded grey-brown T-shirt with a ripped shoulder seam, dusty frayed dark trousers, worn blue rubber slippers, a black nylon bag of belongings as a pillow. Dust on his skin, ashy elbows. Lagoon mist in the background, concrete pillars with graffiti, a yellow danfo bus passing overhead. Cold teal morning light, desaturated palette, anamorphic 2.39:1, 35mm lens. His eyes just opening, weary expression. His hair is the same short curly tapered style, only dusty and uncombed.

IMG-02: Begging at Balogun Market (Shot 6) · W1

Busy Balogun Market, Lagos Island, midday. He stands with an open empty palm held out toward passers-by, head slightly bowed, wearing the same torn faded grey-brown T-shirt, dusty trousers and rubber slippers. A woman in colourful ankara pulls her child away; a man in a kaftan waves him off without looking. Colourful fabric stalls, umbrellas, crowd motion blur, harsh overhead sun, sweat on his forehead, handheld documentary feel, 35mm, shallow depth of field on his face. Expression: quiet shame and hunger.

IMG-03: Turned away at the corporate tower (Shots 8-9) · W2

Outside a glass-and-steel office tower on Broad Street / Marina, Lagos. He wears an oversized yellowed white long-sleeve shirt with a frayed collar, a short borrowed brown tie, shiny-worn black trousers, cracked black shoes, clutching a brown A4 envelope with his CV to his chest. A uniformed security guard blocks the glass doors with an outstretched arm, shaking his head. Low-angle 24mm shot making the tower loom like a mountain. Hot hazy Lagos afternoon, sweat patches on his shirt, polite hopeful smile fading into disappointment. Cool corporate reflections in the glass.

IMG-04: Rejected by fellow musicians (Shot 11) · W3

Small cramped music studio in Surulere, Lagos: foam panels, a cheap keyboard, a mixing desk, fluorescent tube light. He wears a faded black T-shirt with a cracked print, old jeans, worn canvas sneakers, cheap headphones around his neck, holding a taped-up exercise book of handwritten lyrics. A producer in a snapback and three young musicians laugh at him mockingly; one points at the door. His expression: hurt but dignified. Handheld 28mm, slightly greenish fluorescent grade, cinematic grain.

IMG-05: Locked out, sliding down the gate (Shot 12) · W3

Night, outside the same Surulere studio. A rusted iron gate with a heavy old padlock and chain in the foreground, sharp focus. He sits on the ground with his back against the gate, head in his hands, lyric notebook on his knee, same faded black T-shirt and jeans. 6. LIP-SYNC & PERFORMANCE DIRECTION

6.1 On set (live shoot)

- 1. Playback at 100% speed for all 24/25 fps takes. For slow-motion lip-sync (48/60 fps), play the track back at 2x / 2.4x speed so the mouth matches at normal speed in the edit.
- 2. Every A-roll setup gets 3 full-song passes (wide / medium / close) so the editor can choose freely.
- 3. Slate with timecode sync: a Tentacle/Deity TC box on the playback laptop and every camera.
- 4. The artist must sing out loud and full voice, not mime. Real breath, neck tension and jaw movement are what make it look real.

6.2 Expression map (natural, not over-acted)

Section	Face	Body / Gesture
Intro / Verse 1	Eyes closed → open, soft remembering, slight frown of memory	Still, both hands on the stand
Pre-chorus	Brows lift, chin rises	One hand leaves the stand, opens outward
Chorus	Full smile, teeth visible on "hallelujah", eyes sparkle	Rock the stand on beats 2 & 4, shoulder bounce, hand raised on "shout"
Verse 2	Confident, warm, story-telling	Hand to chest on "overflow my heart"
Chant break	Playful, grinning, looking at the crew	Point the mic to the crew for call & response, footwork
Bridge	Fierce, eyes intense on "chains are broken", then release	Stand slam on the beat, fist clench → open palm
Final chorus	Tears plus smile, head back	Arms wide, spin, dance away from the stand
Outro	Peace, gratitude	Hand on heart, head bow

6.3 If using AI video / lip-sync (Kling, Veo, Hedra, HeyGen, Runway Act-Two, etc.)

- Generate the still key frame first (Section 5), approve the identity, then animate. Never generate the face from text alone.

- Feed the lip-sync engine audio clips cut exactly to the shot timecodes in Section 4. Use 3–8 s per clip, trimmed on phrase boundaries.
- Use the isolated vocal stem for lip-sync if the producer can export it. The full mix with drums causes mouth "chatter" on the snare.
- Plosives to check frame by frame: "P"raise, "B"lessings, "M"ountains, "M"ercy. The lips must fully close. On "Hallelujah" the tongue lifts on "L", and "Joy" needs rounded lips.
- Add in every animation prompt: "natural singing expression, realistic jaw and throat movement, breathing between phrases, no exaggerated mouth, identity unchanged from reference."
- Run a face-consistency pass on every final clip against REF-4. If the likeness drifts, regenerate. Do not "fix" it in post.

7. CAMERA, CRANE & DRONE PACKAGE

Unit	Gear	Role
A-Cam	ARRI Alexa 35 + Cooke Anamorphic/i 32/40/50/75mm	Drama hero shots
B-Cam	RED V-Raptor (white body) + Signature Primes	Warehouse performance, also visible on screen
Crane	Technocrane 30 ft + Scorpio head	Warehouse sweeps, top-shots, bridge rise (Shot 16)
Dolly	Chapman Peewee + 40 ft track	Push-ins on lip-sync CUs
Steadicam	Arri Artemis	Market, bus stop, dance circles
Drone 1	DJI Inspire 3 (8K full-frame)	Lagos aerials: Third Mainland, Lekki-Ikoyi Link, Eko Atlantic, jet orbit
Drone 2	FPV cinewhoop (e.g. DJI Avata 2 / custom 3.5" with Komodo)	Warehouse rafters dive, crew fly-through
Slow-mo	Phantom Flex 4K or Sony FX6 at 120 fps	Water drop, confetti, padlock snap, stand slam
Lighting	1× 18K Fresnel (hero spotlight overhead), SkyPanel S360 for fill, Aputure Nova, Astera tubes in the trusses, 4× atomic strobes, 2 hazers

Lagos permits: get Lagos State Film & Video Censors / LASG location clearances. Drone flights need NCAA approval, especially near the airport and Third Mainland Bridge. Private jet terminal access needs an FBO agreement.

8. COLOUR & EDIT RHYTHM

- Act 1 (Grass): teal-grey, low saturation, crushed blacks, 35mm grain, sodium orange nights. Cuts roughly every 2 bars (5.4 s), so the pace feels slow and heavy.
- Act 2 (Turn): colour gradually returns. Cuts every 1 bar (2.7 s).

- Act 3 (Grace): warm gold and rich navy, clean highlights. Cuts every 2 beats (1.35 s) in the dance breaks and every half bar in the THEN/NOW montage.
- Warehouse: a fixed look with neutral-cool blacks and a warm skin key, so the artist's skin tone is always accurate and consistent.
- Transitions: match cuts (face to face, gesture to gesture), light-flash cuts on "Hey!" and "Chains are broken", and no gimmicky wipes.

9. SHOOT SCHEDULE (suggested, 4 days)

Day	Unit	Content
1	Main + Drone	Warehouse A-roll: all performance, crane, FPV, confetti (plan confetti last)
2	Main	Act 1 Grass: bridge (dawn + night rain with rain towers), Balogun, Marina, Surulere studio. W1 → W2 → W3 in that order , dirt make-up layered as the day goes on
3	Main + Drone	Act 2/3: Yaba bus stop, Ikoyi boardroom, Eko Atlantic HQ, studio key handover
4	Main + Drone	Private jet terminal (golden hour), bridge charity return, rooftop, all aerial plates

Continuity dept note: photograph the artist's hairline, beard shape and goatee length every morning against REF-4. No barbering during the shoot. The beard must match the reference exactly across all 4 days.

"He was rejected at every door in Lagos, and heaven opened a better one."

JOY OVERFLOW: From Grass to Grace.
